Pool Room Happenings on the Night of the Murder.

O'CONNELL NOT TO BE HELD

Evidence Continues to Show O'Neil's Flushness after 8 o'clock Friday Night. One Witness Tangled Up. Little New Evidence Given Today.

The proceedings at the trial of O'Neil in Greenfield today have not developed the sensational features that were generally expected after the startling evidence of Davis as to O'Neil's confession given late yesterday afternoon. Evidently the commonwealth takes O'Neil's story told to Davis as a story to protect himself and does not believe it, for there are no indications today that O'Connell is to be held for the crime or for any complicity in it. So, no startling revelations from O'Connell are to be expected, as he will not be put in jeopardy.

The evidence today has been largely on the incidents of the pool room after 8 o'clock of the night of the murder. The prosecution has placed one witness after another on the stand to show that O'Neil was there about 8 o'clock with plenty of money. Over and over again this story is told by men who were at the pool room that night. The wound on O'Neil's head has occupied a good deal of attention today. The defense evidently by its cross-examination has wanted to show that he got this wound in the coal shed near the pool room by an accident as he claimed that night.

The testimony of Woods given this afternoon that he saw O'Neil in the pool room between 7 and 7:30 o'clock was badly broken down by District Attorney Hammond. In fact, it was important only up to the time that the district attorney had snarled him in questions that led him to back down as to the 7 o'clock time.

The government does not expect to close this afternoon. At noon there were about 30 more witnesses to examine, and examination was proceeding slowly. Cross-examination was taking up considerable time. The commonwealth does not intend holding O'Connell on the statement that was made in court Thursday. It looks upon the statement of O'Neil to Davis, implicating O'Connell, as an excuse offered by O'Neil to his friends and which bears on its face strong evidence of guilt. The government does not intend to place O'Connell on the stand again. The defense may do it. The intention of the government not to place O'Connell on the stand shows that nothing more of value is expected from him. The expected fuller details will not be forthcoming. It seems the government is satisfied that O'Connell has no guilty knowledge of the crime.

Cross-examination has not shaken the testimony of one witness during the whole trial nor brought out any very important contradictions. O'Neil according to testimony dropped out of notice about 6 o'clock, returned about 8:15 and had "struck it rich" in the meantime. In fact, today the defense has taken up much time in cross-examining that has developed nothing, leading to the idea that O'Neil's lawyer's are desirous of time, perhaps to find rebuttal of Davis' testimony.

While no sensation is expected today, yet the experience of the Davis evidence given yesterday has prepared the defense for any surprise.

The trial of John O'Neil, Jr., for the murder of Mrs. Hattie E. McClelland passed suddenly Thursday afternoon from a tame affair into the realm of true sensationalism and took on the conditions of a real battle for a life. The government Wednesday made little impression, but yesterday it produced a witness who gave a story which purports to fasten the crime on O'Neil.

During the forenoon and early afternoon of Wednesday the commonwealth was slowly involving the prisoner in suspicion.

What the testimony of Davis will develop is matter of conjecture. If O'Connell knows more of the murder than he has disclosed and is not seriously involved himself, he may volunteer his information, for the statement of Davis will give him concern. Davis is the son of Denny Davis, late of this city.

If the testimony of Davis is not corroborated or supported, it is a question whether it will hang O'Neil. It is said O'Connell's friends can account for time during all of that Friday evening, and if they can that will destroy the Davis story. However, as the case was left by Thursday's testimony, much of it hangs on O'Connell. If O'Connell can prove an alibi, O'Neil will have had given him a new lease of life. Should no other developments arise with reference to the Davis testimony, it will probably be the work of the defense to so prove. The new testimony came as sudden as a thunderbolt. The commonwealth did not know of it until Wednesday morning.

The testimony of late Wednesday afternoon follows:

Dr. Upton.
Dr. Upton, Shelburne Falls, was called to attend O'Neil Saturday night. He was sitting on a chair when the doctor called, complaining of great pain, afraid he was going to die. Witness said he was going to die. O'Neil offered to pay before he was through with the examination. He gave witness a $5 bill, which witness marked and kept. Bill was produced by attorney-general and identified by the doctor. Angina pectoris may be caused by alcoholism or fright. He marked the bill a few days after receiving it.

Cross-examined by Mr. Beer. Doctor removed O'Neil's garments to make diagnosis, but noticed nothing peculiar about them.

Redirect. Marked the bill because of a remark that was made by O'Neil.

Cross-examined. The witness marked the bill because detective came to him.

David Davis a surprising Evidence.
David Davis, a prisoner under sentence in the Massachusetts reformatory, was next called. He saw O'Neil in jail February 22. He told O'Neil then he was sorry to see him in that position. O'Neil was sorry himself, but said he was innocent. O'Neil said that he went home the night of the murder drunk. O'Neil said O'Connell did the choking and that he, O'Neil, had $10 of the money. Curtis was present at the time of this conversation, who was another prisoner doing time in the jail. O'Neil said there was a third party and that if they wanted him they could get him. O'Neil said if he had not been drinking he would not be where he was.

Davis' Long Cross-Examination.
Cross-examined by Mr. Beer. He was the son of Dan Davis who lost both legs in North Adams 16 years ago. Arrested at Ashfield. He did not communicate anything of that interview to any one until Thursday morning. He then told it to Officer Brown of Concord and State Detective Rhodes. It was on George Washington's birthday and Mr. Curtis was present. It was in the Greenfield house of correction in the workshop. They all had the privilege of spending the day in that room.

Woodward on the Stand.
The cross-examination of Woodward took up considerable time and had reference to the drinking bout that O'Neil and his companions had Saturday evening. Woodward was one of the crowd and went over the details of the drinking and the scene at the depot and the Shelburne Falls hotel, which included the expressed desire of O'Neil to go to Boston, the sending of O'Neil to the pool of whiskey when the $10 bill was shown and the helpless condition of O'Neil when he was taken home. Nothing new was developed in this cross-examination.

Henry S. Chapman.
Henry S. Chapman was night operator at the Shelburne Falls depot on the evening of January 8. He saw O'Neil, Morrissey and Woodward in the depot. Some of the men went out and he found O'Neil asleep on a settee. He tried to awaken O'Neil. Woodward came in and witness spoke about getting O'Neil out. Witness tried to rouse him again. Woodward said he wanted to go away on the train and said he had money to pay his fare. Morrissey said: "Let us see," and took a $10 bill out of his pocket and showed it to witness, saying, "you see he has money." Witness said, "yes, but I don't think he wants to go." The two then went out.

Cross-examined he said he did not hear O'Neil speak about going away.

Edward F. Murdock.
Edward F. Murdock, who was with Mr. Chapman the same night, saw O'Neil and the others at the depot. He went out into the entry room and found O'Neil asleep on settee and saw Morrissey take the $10 bill out of his pocket.

On cross-examination he said all the men had been drinking. All were pretty drunk, and O'Neil the drunkest. He did not hear O'Neil speak of going away.

Edward Haller.
Edward Haller saw John O'Neil about 3 o'clock that Friday afternoon on the street and in the pool room. He had seen O'Neil most every day before then. It was a week before that he had seen O'Neil have money. He played pool then and got drunk for four games; and said he was broke now and felt better. He saw him between 8 and 8:30 that night in the pool room. He put his head through the door and shouted about keeping a man out all night. Then he took witness's cousin to the coal shed, where they and others drank. He returned to the pool room and wanted to play pool. He declared he had the "tip" and shoved the money into the witness's face. Witness declared O'Neil must have struck it rich. He said he did. He went out and returned saying he had hit his head against the coal shed.

Witness examined the wound. It looked as if there had been blood there and it had been wiped away. The witness here wanted to say that the wound was not new but the answer was excluded.

O'Neil's Story How Mrs. McClelland Died.
Witness saw O'Neil next day with a crowd and when he inquired what the matter was O'Neil said Crittenden's daughter was found dead. He said that the father said the woman took a fit and died. He saw O'Neil later and heard him called witness out. He asked witness if he wanted a drink, and witness told him he did. Later both finished the pint. Said O'Neil, "Here's a dollar I owe you." Witness said, "I'll only 75 cents you owe." He handed witness a $10 bill, and witness told him of it, and he said witness made a mistake. Haller saw him have another bill.

Mr. Dowlin cross-examined but brought out nothing new.

C. E. Hogan.
Clarence E. Hogan went into the Shelburne Falls bank Saturday and saw O'Neil as he reached the steps. O'Neil asked him for a match. He gave it to him and went in and locked the door. He sat down inside and saw O'Neil, Morrissey and Woodward drink from a bottle. James Woods came up and was asked to feel the lump on Jack's head. Jack could not answer the question where or how he got it. O'Neil passed a $10 bill to his friends and called it a $20 bill passed out another bill.

Chas. Woodward.
Charles Woodward knows John O'Neil, and saw him about every day shortly before the time of his arrest. His testimony was only corroborative of the testimony of the others who told of the drinking carousals. He got knocked out in one of them. O'Neil never mentioned the death of Mrs. McClelland.

Mr. Dowlin cross-examined him without bringing out much that was new.

This Forenoon.
Court opened this Friday morning by the placing of Charles Woodward on the stand so that the cross-examination might be completed. The court opened with the usual ceremony with no noticeable features. There was quite a crowd outside struggling for admission and had it not been raining heavily it is probable the largest crowd yet would have assembled.

Speculation title.
The sensational testimony of Davis last night has caused increased interest in the trial. There is no end of a speculation in Greenfield and Shelburne Falls that this evidence has developed. Some expect to see O'Connell on the stand again to give what he knows about the crime, if he does know more than he admitted when on the stand earlier in the case. It is believed if he has any guilty knowledge of the crime that he will tell it in the hope of saving himself from the result of circumstantial evidence. The forefinger of O'Connell's left hand is missing, and it is being asked today if he could have done the choking as alleged and left the finger marks found on the dead woman's throat.

O'Neil Depressed.
O'Neil this morning was not so high spirited as he appeared to be on previous days. He sat in the dock, leaned back in his chair against the dock wall listening attentively to the testimony. Occasionally he would glance rapidly around him to take in the jury and spectators. The court room was filled to the extent of its seating capacity, but no crowding was permitted.

William S. Shaw.
William S. Shaw, who was employed at the cutlery last January, saw O'Neil between 2 and 3 p. m. that Friday in the pool room, but not after that until 8:30. He was in the pool room then, and told the boys he had cut his head. On the east side of the pool room witness examined O'Neil's hand about 10 o'clock for a silver. He found no silver. The wound was ragged and more a bruise than a cut. Witness got no moisture from it on his hands. O'Neil said he ran against the corner of the building. There was no appearance of blood or moisture on the wound. Witness saw O'Neil the next forenoon and again at 2:30 near the bridge. Kennedy was present. Witness said, "By G-d, Jack, you can't tell where you was last night," and he said, "By G-d I can't."

Mr. Dowlin cross-examined and brought out a close story of the pool-room meeting and incidents of that Friday evening. Answers were received showing that O'Neil did not act unusual, nor was he drunk. He had been drinking and was laughing. O'Neil had had many bruised heads before. The movements of O'Neil on Saturday were followed up in the examination but no corroboration of the statement of O'Neil with reference to Mrs. McClelland's death was obtained.

Christian Fritz.
Christian Fritz was in the pool room that Friday evening and saw O'Neil come in and want to play. No one seemed to care to play with him. He stepped up to Haller and said, "By God, I have the money."

Mr. Dowlin cross-examined as to O'Neil's state. He did not see O'Neil drinking. O'Neil went into the pool room alone between 8 and 9 o'clock. Further examination only developed corroboration of the pool room story that has been told so often.

Thomas Glasit.
Thomas Glasit, Shelburne Falls, knew O'Neil and during the week preceding the murder he knew O'Neil to have 40 cents and to spend it for pool. He thought it was time that O'Neil said he was busted and felt better when he had spent his money in the game. He was present when O'Neil fell in the alley. He did not know of O'Neil having any money but the 40 cents.

Mr. Beer also examined with reference to the poor testimony of the witness apparently to see if witness was consistent on the money point. The court suggested that the recorded testimony would be accepted, but Mr. Beer wished to proceed and was allowed, bringing out nothing new.

Louis Vico.
Louis Vico was called. He said he saw O'Neil in the pool room the Friday evening of January 8. He knew him to have considerable money. Thought it must be Confederate money as he did not think O'Neil could have so much cash on hand. Mr. Dowlin cross-examined. Witness did not see money to recognize it. Heard a statement of some kind about counterfeit money, and thought it applied to O'Neil's money. Did not know what counterfeit money was referred to until after O'Neil's arrest. Didn't know much about the money anyway.

Frank Stemple.
He saw O'Neil have money in the pool room Friday night. O'Neil went to play pool with Louis Vico for $1 a game. Mr. Beer cross-examined but brought out nothing new whatever.

Woods' Evidence That He Saw O'Neil From 7 to 7:30 O'clock.
William Wood was next called and gave is still predominant in national politics, namely, that of the free coinage of silver at the rate of 16 ounces of silver to one of gold.

They considered that the views of the president, as made public by him from time to time, favored a resumption of such coinage, and expressed the belief that these views were so contrary to the views generally held by the friends of the university that the university had already laid gifts and legacies which otherwise would have come or have been assured to it, and that without change it would in the future fail to receive pecuniary support which is requisite to enable it to prosecute with success the grand work on which it has entered. The change hoped for by them, they predicted to explain, is not a renunciation of these views, as honestly entertained by him, but a forcible one of regard for the interests of the university, to promulgate them, especially when to promulgate them will appeal most strongly to the passions and prejudices of the public.

The subscribers understand that it was in pursuance of the hope that the resolution appointing them a committee to confer with the president was passed, and that the committee may be added, without a single dissenting voice or vote.

Dr. Andrews' Reply.
To the Advisory and Executive Committee of the Corporation of Brown University.

Gentlemen—Believing that, however much I might desire to do so, I should find myself unable to meet the wishes of the corporation as explained by the special committee officially appointed to confer with me on the interests of the university, without surrendering that reasonable liberty of utterance which my professors, my friends, and myself would have but little worth, I respectfully resign the presidency of the university, and also my professorship therein, to take effect not later than the first day of a approaching September. I regret the brevity of the intervening time, but am acting at the earliest possible moment, after securing an interview with the committee.

Thanking you, gentlemen, and all the other members of the corporation for the good will toward me personally, which has been expressed in so many ways, and cherishing the best wishes for the prosperity of the university, I am, yours with sincere esteem,

E. Benjamin Andrews.

The controversy which led up to the resignation was precipitated by Congressman Walker of Massachusetts at the last meeting of the Brown corporation. The congressman at that time deplored the action by President Andrews in promulgating his views on the silver question. Mr. Walker's stand was approved by all the members of the corporation, and a committee was appointed to confer with Dr. Andrews and endeavor to induce him to refrain from pursuing the policy he had adopted in relation to financial teachings. The correspondence printed above, together with the president's resignation, was the result.

The announcement is not at all surprising, as it was generally believed that Dr. Andrews would not remain at the university.

WILL THE SILVER QUESTION SETTLE ITSELF.

These are important days as affecting the money question in this country. There are two events of great importance now transpiring that may settle the silver question without any national battle of ballots that has so frequently been predicted for 1900. One of these is the increased and enormous production of gold metals at the present time. The year 1897 promises to be the year of greatest gold production yet known. This was true before the very recent discovery of the Klondike gold fields of the Yukon. The United States will exceed its usual production by several million dollars worth, Australia and Africa will exceed their usual output of the yellow metal. The world's output for the year will be enormous.

Then, too, after the announcement of France's interest in the bimetallic scheme advocated by this country, comes the present announcement from London that President McKinley's commissioners have been assured of the willingness of Great Britain to co-operate with the United States in an international bimetallic conference. This gives great encouragement to the friends of true bimetallicism, and is correspondingly depressing on the friends of silver monometalism—Mr. Bryan and his followers. Co-operation of the United States, Great Britain and France in the calling of an international conference on this subject will insure the co-operation of all the leading nations, and the explicit terms in which the co-operation of England is assured gives great encouragement as to the prospect for an early conference on this subject. The further fact that it is proposed to hold this conference in the United States adds greatly to the interest in this subject, and if the conference can be held here the detailed information which it will give to the people will be received with great interest.

It is not improbable today that the gold miners of the world and the commissioners of another bi-metallic world's conference will settle the silver question without Mr. Bryan's aid.

IT SHOULD BE ENFORCED.

Forest and Stream, that greatest of all sportsmen's journals and the paper that has done much to preserve and protect game in America, has taken an interest in the Massachusetts law to protect birds and which prohibits the use of their bodies and feathers for purposes of ornamentation. Forest and Stream truly says that it is given out that Chief Wade of the Massachusetts state police, will undertake to enforce the new statute, which forbids having in possession the body or feathers of song and insectivorous birds; and the lawyers have passed on the law's application to women as well as to men. A curious notion appears to hold in Massachusetts that just because the statute does apply to woman, fair woman, bird's body be decried, it was not meant in earnest by the legislature, and is now to be regarded as a bit of pleasantry. As a legal matter of fact, the law was designed for just what appears on the face of it, as a means to reach people who could not be reached in any other way. Appeals to women's humanity, and arguments based upon economic considerations have been ineffectual. The only recourse, in Massachusetts as elsewhere, is to sterner measures and methods. The law is a good law; it should be enforced.

Every lover of nature and every sportsman of right instincts will agree to the enforcement proposition.

The O'Neill trial is likely to cost the commonwealth $7,500 or more before it is completed.

Western papers tell us the days of '49 are present again, and yet we are told that time goes is gone forever. What things gold can do.

Secretary Gage may give an important hint as to his financial policy at the Boston supper next Tuesday night. The country is waiting for it.

Japan's prime minister says positively that Hawaii shall not be annexed to the United States. Will Japan have to learn differently by trying that theory on, or will she subside? The situation looks ominous.

Now the question is being asked: "Will the Americans be shut out of the new Klondike gold fields?" The gold fields along the boundary line and the Canadian government can shut out Americans if it will do so.

It is said the saloons at Klondike are doing a land office business. The daily receipts for each place average $2,000 and $3,000. A boy can get $35 a night for playing a little in saloons in the land of the new gold fields. Licenses there would be worth $200 a year easily.

The intolerable heat

The heat of the past week has caused many who were not enjoying robust health to succumb to its influence. To many the cough and slight of food is positively sickening. Impaired digestion and sleepless nights follow, until the system has become so weakened that any one of a train of innumerable diseases may result.

Simard's Beef, Wine, and Iron

at this season is an invaluable remedy; it tones the system, adds vigor, enriches the blood, and enables one not naturally strong to withstand the debilitating effect produced by the extreme heat.

AT ADAMS TODAY

Arrested for Burglary.

Richard Harper is under arrest for the burglary committed at C. H. Goodell's grocery store at Zylonite Sunday night. The arrest was made by Chief Curran Thursday evening while Mr. Harper was at his boarding house on Park street. The burglary was supposed to have been committed by some one who was well acquainted with the premises and safe. Mr. Harper formerly worked in the store for James C. Ferguson. He is a painter by trade, about 22 years old and has always been considered a respectable young man. He denies the charge and in court this morning pleaded not guilty to the offense. His attorney is Lawyer Cassidy and Lawyer Harrington represents the commonwealth. The case was continued until next Tuesday.

A Sudden Death.

A sudden death occurred this morning on Summer street when Elias Boer, 33, died without a moment's notice. Medical Examiner O. J. Brown of North Adams was called, and pronounced death due probably to apoplexy. He worked Thursday and was thought to be a healthy man. The deceased was born in Germany and had lived in town about 14 years. He was a respected citizen and a hard working man. He leaves a widow and two children, the youngest being six weeks old. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon and Hermann lodge of which he was a member will attend in a body.

Mrs. Margaret Cunningham.

Mrs. Margaret Cunningham, aged 52 years, died at her home on Friend street in Renfrew Thursday morning. She was taken ill about a week ago with pneumonia and died early Sunday. She was born in the County Cork, Ireland, December 1844, and had lived in town about 24 years. Mrs. Cunningham was always a hard working woman, of a kind and generous disposition and had many friends. She leaves a husband, William, also two daughters, Maggie and Mary; three sons, William, Dennis and John. The funeral will occur Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Renfrews Dissolved.

The baseball spirit in this town is waning fast. At present there are no Renfrews. Last Saturday the team was to have played in Dalton and on Thursday in Pittsfield, but both games had to be canceled as Manager Curran states that there were no funds and no men. The only baseball team we have now is A. J. Follett's X-Renfrews. Several influential business men however say a new team of Renfrews will soon be organized that will open North Adams and Pittsfield eyes.

Dances at Forest Park.

A dance will be held in the pavilion this evening by a private party from North Adams. A number of local people have been invited and a pleasant time is anticipated.

Saturday evening Palmer's orchestra will hold a dance, the proceeds to be given to Joseph Marsh to help pay for his new bass viol. A large attendance is expected.

North Adams vs. Pittsfield.

Manager Meade of North Adams has arranged for a game with Pittsfield at Lawsonian field Saturday afternoon. Quite a little dissatisfaction has remained since the last game and Pittsfield will come up with blood in their eyes and so a good game is assured. McBride will pitch for North Adams.

Knights of Columbus Meeting.

The Knights of Columbus held their first meeting in their new hall in Jones' block Thursday evening. Various business matters were discussed and a large number of applicants were received. The rooms are to be fitted in fine style and when finished the council will have excellent quarters.

Rear Axle Broke.

As Frank Whitaker was peddling fish with one of J. M. Montgomery's fish wagons at Zylonite this morning the rear axle of the wagon broke and let one end of the wagon down. The horse was stopped before any damage was done.

Probate Court.

A session of probate court was held in this town Thursday morning and Mrs. Anna Donahue was made administratrix of the estate of her late husband, John Donahue; Mrs. Augusta Scholz, administratrix of the estate of the late Emil Scholz, and an inventory was filed of the estate of E. E. Maynard of Savoy.

Church Supper.

Do not forget the 10-cent supper at the old St. Charles church building Saturday afternoon and evening. Those in charge are making special efforts and all who attend are sure of an excellent meal. The proceeds are to be donated to the new church fund.

Arrested for Assault.

Patrick Tobin a young man from Maple Grove was in court this morning charged with assault on William Boulet. Lawyer Cassidy appeared for Tobin and it appeared that Tobin struck Boulet accidentally. The papers were filed away.

A New Case of Diphtheria.

A new case of diphtheria has been reported to the board of health. It is a child eight years old. Every precaution for the prevention of its spreading has been taken, and it is hoped it will soon be cured. This is the first case reported since June 2.

Misses Agnes and Frances O'Donnell of Troy, N. Y., and Miss Mamie Whalen of North Adams visited friends here Thursday.

Frank Holland has just returned from an extended trip through this state and Rhode Island.

John Yeoman has been on the sick list. Mr. Cornelius Kane of Springfield, Vt., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kearns of Sumner street.

Miss Josephine Lafey is the guest of Chesire friends.

POWNAL.

William F. Bowen and wife of Erie, Mich., are visiting their cousin, T. Hoxie Hall. They are eastern people by birth, having moved west from Adams a number of years ago. Mr. Bowen has done well and having left his business career in charge of his subordinates comes east to renew old friendships. He brought his team with him and is anticipating much pleasure in driving once more through the beautiful Berkshire hills.

A large party left Thursday morning for Boston from which they will go to the seaside and remain several weeks. The party was composed of Miss Loda Gardner, Mrs. Ellen C. Towhee, Mrs. Samuel J. Gardner and Misses Florence Gardner and Maggie Myers.

The supper on and evening served by Mrs. E. J. and Mrs. C. H. Barber received many compliments from those who partook of the splendid repast. A goodly sum was raised for the church treasury.

The Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' circus attracted quite a large number from this town to North Adams Wednesday. Some speak favorably of the spectacle, while others thought that the show was truly rammed, inasmuch as they failed to produce number of things which were advertised, and so they considered themselves sold.

Rev. A. B. Whipple of Pittsfield will occupy the Baptist pulpit again next Sunday. Mr. Kellogg preaches in a New York church and will be home next week. Mrs. Kellogg is slowly improving.

Mrs. Lucy A. Haley has been granted an original widow's pension.

A party of young people took a trolley ride Thursday evening to Adams, Williamstown and the Beaver. They had a jolly good time.

YOU GET IT HERE.

North Adams People May Have Noticed This Peculiarity and May Have Made Remarks About It.

Did you ever notice while looking over the columns of your evening paper, what gigantic efforts manufacturers, storekeepers and proprietors make to get their goods put forth to bring what they vend before the public, to place what they have for sale in the most attractive form, how they exhaust the Anglo-Saxon language rich as it is in descriptive words and phrases, and how, if they score a point every known advantage is taken of it. Did you ever notice that Doan's Kidney Pills is the only remedy on the market that gives you home testimony, local proof, local evidence, North Adams happenings? If you never have, make a note of it. Keep it in view. Bear it in mind. Here is one example:

Mr. William Robinson, of No. 21 Houghton street, machinist, says: "I suffered terribly from inflammatory rheumatism for years, so much so I had to give up my calling. Serious urinary difficulty attacked me and that with a settled pain in the loins nullified me for anything and made me utterly miserable. Desires to urinate frequently, murky cloudy urine, a dull grinding pain which followed me to bed and prevented me from sleeping was my daily portion. I tossed and turned from side to side in quest of ease which never came. The base of the spine seemed to be affected and I was in a bad way when I went to Burlington & Darby's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. The leading journals were publishing incidents where Doan's Kidney Pills were effecting cures and they naturally interested me and finally persuaded me to give them a fair trial. Now from the benefit already received I am competent to judge of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I heartily endorse them. I have recovered more benefit from them than from any other medicine."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents per box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's and take no substitute.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Horse Dropped Dead--Contractor's Bonds Approved--Meat Cart Struck by an Electric Car--Town was not Left Unprotected.

Meat Cart Struck by a Car.

There was a collision on the back road not far from the depot Thursday afternoon, when LaPlant & Lapan's meat cart, driven by Henry Lapan, was struck by an electric car and considerably damaged. The cart was moving in a westerly direction and the car was quite near before the driver heard it. He reined his horse to get further from the track, but before the rear end of the wagon was out of reach the car struck it and demolished one wheel. The driver and horse were not hurt. Another wagon was sent for the meat and the meat cart was taken away for repairs. The firm keeps a market on the factory ground.

Town Was Not Unprotected.

There having been considerable talk about the town being destitute of fire protection for two or three days after the fire department was disbanded last week, Chief Engineer Crozier says that the scare, if any there was, was entirely needless. He says there was not an hour during the whole time when there were not 20 men who would have responded to an alarm, they having pledged themselves to do so before the company was disbanded. A key to the hose room was left where any one of these 20 men could have placed his hand on it in the dark, and Mr. Crozier says if there had been a fire every part of the apparatus would have been handled promptly and well.

Horse Dropped Dead.

A good horse, one of the Boston Finishing works team, dropped dead Thursday forenoon on Cole avenue in front of All-sop's store. Ed. Valencourt, the driver, went to the Fitchburg freight house for a load of goods, but on arriving he noticed that the horse was sick and started back without a load. He had driven but a short distance when the horse suddenly fell to the ground dead. It is not known what caused the death of the animal. It was a large gray horse and a valuable animal for heavy work.

Contractor's Bonds Approved.

The bonds of Contractor Cummings have been approved by the high school building committee and filed with the town treasurer. Joseph Gilbo, who is to lay the foundation, is nearly ready to begin excavating. It is hoped to have the building enclosed by November 1.

Joseph Guilbe began work today on the foundation of the cottage to be erected by Willard E. Hoyt for his coachman.

F. J. Barber of North Adams is making some improvements in the tenements in his block on Spring street.

The three young men who had their heads shaved last week are already able to display a good growth of stubble and are fondly contemplating the time when they will again have regulation "mattches" upon their craniums.

Miss Mabel Laliberte gave to her mother as a birthday present a few days ago a beautiful piece of art work from her own hand. It is a cover for a sofa pillow, upon which is skillfully painted a picture of three young larks in their nest in the woods. It is a very pretty piece of work, and Mrs. Laliberte was delighted with it, both because of its rare beauty and the fact that it was the work of her own daughter.

Mary Cullen Grady has been appointed administratrix of the estate of the late John Grady.

There will be a meeting of the fire department Monday evening, at which time a few more members will be taken in.

Ed. Valencourt, who has been sick since July 5, resumed his work as teamster for the Boston Finishing works Wednesday.

Mrs. Carroll of Albany is visiting her daughter, who is employed in the office of the people's market.

Summer luxuries

Don't think of going through this summer without certain needed articles, among which are a straw hat, a palm leaf fan, and a piece of rattan furniture.

Have as many pieces of rattan as your house and purse will permit—one is an essential, two will be a luxury. The cost is small; you can reach the borderland of luxury by this route very inexpensively.

There is no summer furniture like rattan; it is warmly associated with the period of youth; yet, like the man who blew his hand to warm it and his soup to cool it, rattan cools and warms alike; out its cooling mission brings it warmest praise.

Rattan furniture is light, but almost indestructible by ordinary wear; it is the cleanest of all furniture, it is the coolest, it is the most inexpensive, and, unlike any other, it harmonizes with all colors and styles of furnishings.

A SINGULAR CASE

A Woman Claiming to Have Been Deserted by Her Husband.

TELLS HER STORY TO STRANGERS

Said She Had Walked to Williamstown and Back Looking for the Man Who Had Absconded With Her Money. Acted Queerly.

At about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon a woman called at the house of M. A. Church on North street and asked for a drink of water. Mrs. Church's little girl invited her in, and after taking a drink of water she proceeded to tell a tale of woe. The woman, who was apparently about 35 years old, said her name was Josephine Rogers. She said she was employed in the Beaver mill and boarded with Mrs. Fountain at the Deaver. Mrs. Rogers claimed to be looking for her husband. She said they went to the fair grounds Wednesday, the day of the circus, but did not go into the tent. They were looking around outside when her husband spoke of being hungry and she let him take her pocketbook, which contained $20, all the money she had, that he might go and buy something to eat. Mrs. Rogers said her husband went away, and that she had not seen or heard from him since. She further said that she had walked to Williamstown and back Thursday looking for him. She had certainly been out in the rain for some time, for her clothing was thoroughly soaked when she called at Mrs. Church's.

The woman asked for ginger, which Mrs. Church gave her, and frequently took a dose of it in cold water as she sat relating her troubles. When she had been in the house for some time she was taken sick and obliged to lie down, and shortly afterwards she was seized with vomiting. Mrs. Church became alarmed and sent her little girl out for an officer. Policeman Chilson responded and went to the house. The woman told the same story to him that she had told to Mrs. Church and appeared to think that her husband had deserted her. Officer Chilson reported the matter at the police station and was on his way back to the house where he had left the woman when he met her on the corner by the Baptist church. She said she was going to try to get home. She told Mrs. Church when she left that she thought she would make a round of the saloons to see if she could find her husband. Officer Chilson noticed that the woman had a black eye, but when asked about it she said it was caused by a spider bite.

It was a rather singular case. Neither Mrs. Church nor the officer ever saw the woman before, and beyond the statements made by her nothing is known of the circumstances.

Poultry Association Meeting.

A regular meeting of the North Berkshire Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock association was held Thursday evening in the Richmond home parlors. The question of advertising in the poultry journals the show to be held December 1-4 was considered, and 12 members were taken into the association. Dr. S. L. Lloyd of Williamstown gave an interesting talk on poultry, speaking of the different breeds, etc.; and his address was heard with much interest by the members present.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—P. H. Cronin, while going to the circus Wednesday evening, stumbled and injured his right knee quite badly. Dr. Curran attended.

—Up to today the rainfall for the month has been greater than that of any other month this year. The record shows a fall of 7.12 inches.

—The Hungarian band will play their last concert at Cole's grove in Williamstown Sunday afternoon. Saturday evening a dance will be held, and next Tuesday evening a brass band concert will be held.

—It is remarked by the court officers that there are very few "sitters," as men with no business are styled, in attendance at the present criminal term in Pittsfield. Usually there have been from 100 to 200 men attending the criminal court, with no other motive than to hear sickening details. This term there have been many empty benches and no crowd in the space allotted to spectators.

TOWER ON FIRE.

London, July 23.—A dispatch from Blackpool, Lancashire, received early this morning, says a fire broke out in the top of the Ebbel tower, 550 feet high, which was erected on the promenade at that place four years ago. A strong sea breeze fanned the flames, which spread rapidly through the upper part of the structure, and a great mass of burning timber and iron fell with terrific crashes upon the roofs of the buildings below. Thousands of persons turned out to see the fire, and there were continual stampedes, caused by fears that the heat, which was intense, would disturb the equilibrium of the tower and that the whole structure would fall.
